PURPOSE AND RATIONALE OF THE QUALIFICATION

Purpose:
The purpose of this qualification is to prepare a learner to operate as a Learning and Development Practitioner.

A Learning and Development Practitioner plans, writes learning objectives, selects and adapts learning resources required for the delivery of learning interventions, and facilitates learning in an occupational context.

A qualified learner will be able to:
- Co-ordinate learning within an occupational context.
- Establish and refine learning and development needs within occupational contexts.
- Conceptualise, plan and implement occupationally relevant learning and development interventions.
- Facilitate learning in a variety of occupational contexts.
- Evaluate the impact of learning and development interventions within an occupational context.

Rationale:
The development of the national skills base within South Africa, as supported by legislation, national policies and strategies is an undisputed priority. Equitable human development that supports an inclusive economic growth path, addresses recognised skills shortages and a reduction in high levels of unemployment, will only be achieved through an educated, skilled and capable South African workforce. This qualification is an essential building block in realising these national priorities.

Many of the skills development priorities, nationally and within companies and organisations, are met through the efforts of learning and development practitioners, and this qualification addresses the key competencies of such practitioners.

The qualification will increase the employment prospects of Occupational Learning practitioners, while helping to ensure quality and competence within the Occupational Learning field.

The qualification further supports the continued development of key established employment opportunities associated with occupationally directed education and training, including, skills development facilitation, assessment practitioners and Skills Development Facilitator (SDF) practitioners as part qualifications.

The qualification also places emphasis on the educational strategy that provides learners with real-life work experiences where they can apply knowledge and technical skills, and develop their employability through work based learning. This qualification recognises the need for qualified practitioners that are competent in planning and facilitating work based learning interventions, as a part qualification. This will achieve the need for qualified persons who are able to support workplaces and learners with the implementation of work experience components of learnerships, internships and apprenticeships.

The qualification is designed to meet the competency profile of persons delivering learning and development services, at the interface of the delivery of learning and development services within the occupational qualification framework. This recognises a further need for professional development at higher levels of learning and development research, planning, design and impact assessment.

LEARNING ASSUMED TO BE IN PLACE AND RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL):
RPL for access to the external integrated summative assessment: Accredited providers and approved workplaces must apply the internal assessment criteria specified in the related curriculum document to establish and confirm prior learning. Accredited providers and workplaces must confirm prior learning by issuing a statement of result or certifying a work experience record.

RPL for access to the qualification: Accredited providers and approved workplaces may recognise prior learning against the relevant access requirements.

Entry Requirements:
- Level 4 with Communication.

Integrated Assessment:
Integrated formative assessment:
The skills development provider will use the curriculum to guide them on the stipulated internal assessment criteria and weighting. They will also apply the scope of practical skills and applied knowledge as stipulated by the internal assessment criteria. This formative assessment leads to entrance into the integrated external summative assessment.

Integrated summative assessment:
An external integrated summative assessment, conducted through the relevant Quality (Quality Council for Trades and Occupations) QCTO Assessment Quality Partner is required for the issuing of this qualification. The external integrated summative assessment will focus on the exit level outcomes and associated assessment criteria.

INTERNATIONAL COMPARABILITY

Qualifications and/or programmes from the United Kingdom, Australia and Singapore were selected for comparison. Selected areas of learning included in the qualifications that are comparable to this qualification were extracted and included. The findings are as follows:
United Kingdom:
Two qualifications registered with the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation were selected for comparison.

AIM Awards, Diploma in Education and Training (QCF), Level 5, ID 601/0462/4. AIM Awards is a National Awarding Organisation, offering a large number of regulated qualifications at different levels and in a wide range of subject areas. The Diploma in Education and Training offered by AIM includes learning in the following comparable areas:

- Teaching, learning and assessment in education and training.
- Theories, principles and models in education and training.
- Developing teaching, learning and assessment in education and training.
- Delivering employability skills.
- Developing learning and development programmes.
- Evaluating learning programmes.
- Identifying the learning needs of organisations.
- Managing learning and development in groups.
- Preparing for the coaching role.
- Preparing for the mentoring role.

City and Guilds, Certificate in Education and Training (QCF), Level 4, ID 601/0253/6. The Certificate includes learning in the following comparable areas:

- Delivering education and training.
- Using resources for education and training.
- Assessing learners in education and training.
- Planning to meet the needs of learners in education and training.
- Developing and preparing resources for learning and development.
- Developing learning and development programmes.
- Identifying individual learning and development needs.
- Identifying the learning needs of organisations.
- Evaluating learning programmes.
- Preparing for the coaching role.
- Preparing for the mentoring role.

Australia:
TAE40110, Certificate IV in Training and Assessment, registered by the Australian Qualifications Framework, was selected for comparison to this qualification. The Australian qualification includes the following comparable areas of learning:

- Plan assessment activities and processes.
- Assess competence.
- Participate in assessment validation.
- Plan, organise and deliver group-based learning.
- Plan, organise and facilitate learning in the workplace.
- Design and develop learning programs.
- Provide work skill instruction.
- Mentor in the workplace.
- Maintain training and assessment information.

Singapore:
Singapore's vocational and technical education has gained much international recognition for its effective training and whole person development. The Singapore Workforce Development Agency (WDA) was established in September 2003 to lead, drive and champion workforce development, enhancing the employability and competitiveness of the workforce of Singapore. The Singapore Workforce Development Agency recognises a 3.5 month Advanced Certificate in Training and Assessment (ACTA).

ACTA requires learners to complete six modules as follows:

- M1: Apply Adult Learning Principles in Training.
- M2: Design a Learning Experience.
- M3: Prepare and Facilitate a Learning Experience.
- M4: Interpret the Singapore Workforce Skills Qualifications System.
- M5: Assess Competence.
- M6: Prepare for Continuing Professional Development.

Conclusion:
The selected countries listed above, as well as a vast number of studies on vocational training and development educator standards, all have a common focus related to the content and scope of qualifications. Key areas of learning identified, to ensure the delivery of quality vocational training programs, are very similar to those included in this qualification. The difference mainly relates to levels of learner achievement, as reflected by Diplomas, Degrees and Postgraduate studies. These include areas of learning such as the design of learning resources, including e-learning systems, the design of curricula and research.

This qualification is comparable with international trends in the training of learning and development practitioners.
